Fire drills are to be conducted and recorded at least once a month, per Vendor Policy. To ensure health and safety, fire drills are to be conducted during various hours of the day (i.e. morning, afternoon, evening and during hours of sleep). Rotating fire drills throughout the day and night, a drill during hours of sleep need only occur once a quarter. For the health and safety of consumers residing in care homes, ACRC has a best practice recommendation that drills conducted during hours of sleep are considered to be midnight to 5:00 am.
