The Board of Directors of Alta California Regional Center (ACRC) believes that consumers are best served by the open exchange of information and opinions, and encourages input from any individual or organization (consumers, families, employees, Board members, or vendors) without fear of retaliation or retribution. ACRC is committed to providing mechanisms for the resolution of problems or complaints as they arise. Formal processes are established for handling appeals and complaints.

Individuals or organizations are welcome to submit comments through:

- Service Coordinator/Supervisor

- E-mail
- Fax
- Executive Director's voicemail comment line
- Public comment at Board/committee meetings
- Comment at consumer, family, and provider advisory committees
- Town Hall meetings

If you feel you have in any way been retaliated against as a result of your input regarding the regional center, please first contact the immediate supervisor, the Director, the Executive Director, and then the Board President, in turn.

All input is of value and will be acknowledged promptly.
